It's raining,
it's pouring,
the old man _____ est.

Canis currit.

ita? minime?

Lectus in culina est.

ita? minime?

Cera in latrina est.

ita? minime?

Mercator vendit.

ita? minime?

Ianua circumspectat.

a word of advice
from a fellow Latin
scholar:

it's chanting that
got you into this
mess, and it might take more chanting
to get out of it.

coquus canem patri vituperat.

canis iratus est.

pater canis coquum vituperat.

time to chant again! I had a bit of a hard time with these sentences, can you tell me what they mean?

discipuli sunt in horto. discipuli filiem patri spectant. filius discipulos salutat. leo hortam intrat.
discipuli et filium perterriti sunt.
filius patrem petit. pater intrat.
pater leonem vituperat. leo e horto currit.

it's your favorite classmate again! believe in yourself! learn from your mistakes ;)

in horto lego. Tum triclinium circumspicio. Deinde in tablino sedeo. ad atrium eo et in atrio scribo. Postremo in culina cenam peto.
